Members of the Houghton Rotary Club celebrated Rotary Day by delivering personalized dictionaries to local third grade class rooms in Houghton, South Range, Chassell and Stanton. Each dictionary was personalized with the student's name and the Rotary Four Way Test. The presentations included looking up words in the new dictionaries and games with Smarties candies as prizes. Rotarians showed the students some of the many features of the dictionaries including the longest word and sign language. Rotarians also had an opportunity to talk to the students about the Four Way Test and Rotary's goal of Polio eradication. The Dictionary Project is one of many ways that Rotary promotes literacy.

President's Corner

The idea for the Dictionary Project began in 1992 when Annie Plummer of Savannah, Georgia gave 50 dictionaries to children who attended a school close to her home. She didn't stop there. In her lifetime she raised the money to buy 17,000 dictionaries for children in Savannah.

Over 1.3 million children throughout America have received a dictionary from volunteer like you how have participated in the Dictionary Project.

The dictionaries distributed by the Houghton Rotary Club also provided us to share the Rotary ideals by sharing the Rotary Four Way Test in each dictionary. In addition, Since Rotarians distributed the books, each student got to interact with community leaders.

What a great way to commemorate Rotary Day!
